

Hi All, Welcome to a weekly 'how are we all doing?' collage board. Hopefully, there is something included in here that offers you a moment of peace and reflection.

From Mark:

I have been very conscious this past week of all the 'noise' that there is in the system and society surrounding schools starting up again more fully. I am also aware that this is causing a great deal of anxiety for leaders, teachers, support staff, governors, pupils and parents. It is important to remember that as yet, no announcements have been made so we really don't know what comes next. I want you to know two things. Firstly, I share that anxiety. Secondly, whatever happens, we will continue to deal with this together in finding our way through. Detailed planning is now under way and your Headteachers will share that with you further as things become clearer in the coming days. We are making representation at a national level to ensure that concerns are heard and considered in future planning. My prayer is that this will give you some reassurance and confidence in moving forward.

"Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 4:6-7)

Reflection...

It's good to make a difference – thank you for all the tiny moments that you offer; they all weave together to provide a richly-knitted social fabric for the communities we serve.

You may never know what a difference your kind words, timely email or call made...just know it to be true.

The UK Blessing – if you have a moment, sit back, listen and enjoy this beautiful song from church choirs around the UK.

We hope that you have a peaceful Bank Holiday weekend – remember to take a little time for yourselves.

Take care everyone.
